Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 09 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers fading overnight and drying up as the week progresses.

This Evening and Tonight:
Chance of locally heavy showers for some this evening but fading as the night gores on, leaving dry conditions throughout the region. Clear skies for most and feeling slightly fresher than recent nights. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tuesday:
Becoming cloudier in the morning but this will break again to give some sunshine. Dry for most but a chance of isolated showers. Feeling warmer than yesterday with light winds. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
A largely dry but cloudy day on Wednesday. Rain potentially pushing eastwards during Thursday morning but perhaps clearing into the afternoon. Friday looks settled with sunny spells for many.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.